

How Do I View Someone's Profile and See Their Moments?

Here's how it works:

Want to know more about someone you just discovered?

Curious about what your friends are posting?

You can view anyone's profile on Currently to see all their live, recent, and past moments — in one place.

How to View a Profile

There are a few easy ways to find and open someone's profile:

1. Search for Them

- Tap the Search icon   from the bottom menu
- Type their name or username
- Tap on their profile from the results

2. Tap on a Moment

- If you see a moment in Discover, Map, or your Feed
- Tap the username or profile picture on that moment
- You'll be taken straight to their profile

3. From Tags

- If someone tags a person in a moment
- Tap on the tagged name to view that person's profile instantly

What You'll See on a Profile

Once you open someone's profile, here's what you can view:

Section	What It Shows
Profile Photo & Bio	See how they describe themselves and their vibe

Current Moment	If they've shared something "Right Now" — it shows at the top
Past Moments	Scroll through their past moments — each one is time-stamped and real
Location Check-ins	See where they've been tagging their moments
Tagged People	See who they usually hang out or share moments with
Followers & Following	Discover their social circle and community

Want to Stay Updated?

- ☐ Tap the Subscribe button to get notified whenever they post a new moment
- ☐ Or Follow them to see their moments in your feed (without notifications)

Subscribing = real-time alerts

Following = passive updates in your feed

What if Their Profile is Private?

Currently is built on real-time sharing, but users still have control.

If a user has restricted visibility:

- ☐ You may only see limited moments
- ☐ Some posts may not appear in public feeds like Discover or Map
- ☐ You might need to follow or subscribe to access more
