

Who Can View My Moments?

Here's everything you need to know about Moment visibility on the platform:

On Currently, every moment you share is about the present — what you're doing, where you are, and how you feel right now. But who gets to see it?

By Default, Your Moments Are Public

Unless you change your privacy settings, your moments are:

Audience	What They Can See
Followers	All your moments in their feed
Subscribers	All moments + instant notifications when you post
Discover Viewers	If your moment qualifies (via C-Rank), it may appear in the public Discover Feed or Map
Profile Visitors	Anyone who visits your profile can see your active and past moments

Visibility Also Depends on Quality & Engagement

Even if your account is public:

- Moments that include real photos/videos, activities, check-ins, or timers are more likely to be featured in Discover and Map
- Low-effort or empty moments may stay limited to just followers or your own profile

Want More Control? Use Privacy Settings

You can control who sees your moments:

1. Go to Profile → Settings → Privacy
2. Choose your preference:

- ❑ Public (default): Anyone can view, follow, or discover your content
- ❑ Followers Only: Only people you follow back can view your moments
- ❑ Private Moments (coming soon): Choose to hide specific moments or make them viewable to selected users only

What About Location-Tagged Moments?

If you tag a location:

- ❑ It can appear on the Map for other users nearby
- ❑ People exploring that place can discover your moment later
- ❑ Your check-in stays as a permanent footprint on that location's history

Who Can't View Your Moments?

Not Allowed to View	Why?
Blocked Users	You've manually blocked them
Non-followers (if privacy is restricted)	If your account is set to "Followers Only"
Deactivated or Deleted Accounts	They no longer exist on the platform

Summary

Viewer Type	Can See Your Moments?
Your Followers	Yes
Subscribers	Yes (with alerts)
Public in Discover	Yes (if C-Rank score is high)

Profile Visitors	Yes (unless private)
Blocked Users	No

Final Tip

The more real, engaging, and timely your moment is, the more people it will reach — and the more impact it can make.
