

Can I use Currently without uploading a selfie?

No, you cannot. On Currently, uploading a real profile photo (selfie) is mandatory — and here's why it matters:

Why a Real Profile Photo is Required

Currently is built for authenticity, real-time connection, and genuine social presence. To maintain a trustworthy and safe environment, we require all users to:

- ☐ Upload a clear, real photo of themselves
- ☐ Avoid using avatars, logos, celebrities, or group pictures

This helps ensure every interaction is real — not anonymous, fake, or misleading.

How It Helps the Community

- ☐ Reduces fake profiles and spam
- ☐ Builds trust among users
- ☐ Improves discoverability and meaningful engagement
- ☐ Makes the platform feel human, not like a feed of unknown accounts

What Happens Without a Real Photo?

If you skip or upload a fake/irrelevant image:

- ☐ Your account may be restricted or flagged
- ☐ You may not appear in Discover or Map
- ☐ You could be reported by other users
- ☐ Your visibility and engagement will be significantly limited

Accounts without real profile photos do not meet Currently's quality and visibility standards (C-Rank).

How to Upload Your Real Profile Photo

Tap your profile icon (bottom bar)

Tap Edit Profile

Tap the profile photo circle

Choose Take a Live Selfie or Upload a clear face photo

Save and continue

Summary

Requirement	Status
Real selfie required	Yes, mandatory
Avatars/logos allowed	No
Skip option available	No
Visibility impact	Limited if not uploaded

Respecting Real Connections

This requirement isn't about pressure — it's about creating a platform where everyone is real, visible, and present.

It ensures a safer, more meaningful experience for all users.